EMIGRANTS VICTIMS WHEN BRITISH PLANE CARRIER HITS LINER

French Steamer Beached After Collision Near Gibraltar In Dense Fog; Planes Save Four; Other Passengers Transferred

LONDON, April 2.—In a report to the British Admiralty, the commandant of the British airplane carrier Glorious stated that twenty-three emigrant passengers of the French liner Florida were found to be missing following a collision between the two vessels.

The report stated they were probably killed when the two ships crashed in a dense fog sixty miles east of Gibraltar. Most of the French liner's passengers were Italians and Syrians.

Seventeen planes from the Glorious' complement were in the air at the time of the collision. Four passengers from the Florida who were thrown into the water by the impact were rescued and taken to Malaga by the airman.

The Florida was beached at the first opportunity, but the Glorious was found seaworthy and proceeded to Gibraltar.

The foreign office announced that one of the Florida's passengers was known to be dead and two seriously and thirteen slightly injured. One member of the vessel's crew also was badly injured. The twenty-three missing are feared dead, the announcement said.

Radio dispatches from the Glorious to the British Admiralty advised that the collision did not extensively damage the carrier which proceeded to Malaga with 500 passengers transferred from the Florida.

The French liner, it was stated, was badly holed forward in two places, and was towed stern first to Malaga. Several members of her crew were also badly injured. The Florida, built in 1925, is of 9,331 tons. She was enroute from Buenos Aires to Genoa, while the Glorious and other British naval ships were proceeding to maneuvers in the Mediterranean.

POLA NEGRI FREED; SAILS FOR AMERICA WITH FINAL DECREE

Princess Business "Not So Hot"; Leaves Mdivani In France

PARIS, April 2.—Pola Negri, American film star, today obtained her long-awaited divorce from Prince Serge Mdivani.

As soon as she learned the last formalities were complied with and the papers due to be handed down by the Seine Tribunal, Miss Negri left for the United States aboard the liner Paris for her first visit after a two years' absence.

In her divorce suit, Miss Negri charged desertion. Her attorney told the court she was willing to resume marital relations with Mdivani, but that the prince refused to discuss a reconciliation.

The marriage of Pola Negri to Prince Mdivani in 1925 caused an international sensation. The ceremony was performed at the beautiful Chateau De Sereinourt, which Miss Negri purchased for the honeymoon. It was an event of feudal splendor, and attended by thousands of countryfolk from the surrounding district who looked on awestricken while the temperamental Polish-born film star became a princess.

The marriage went smoothly until 1929, when Miss Negri filed suit for divorce on the grounds of incompatibility. The case was heard by the Seine Tribunal and, in accordance with French divorce law, the couple was summoned to meet, in the judge's chamber for a final attempt at reconciliation. Suddenly and dramatically, the film actress and the prince fell into each other's arms, and it was announced a short while after that the divorce action had been abandoned.

The "truce" lasted until October of last year, when Miss Negri filed suit for the second time, charging desertion. She said at the time she had found a princess was "not all it is cracked up to be," and that she was determined to obtain her freedom in order to continue her cinema career unhindered by married life.

MANUFACTURER DIES

CLEVELAND, April 2.—Funeral services for Frederick W. Bruch, 79, pioneer nut and bolt machinery manufacturer of Cleveland, will be held tomorrow. It was announced today, Bruch, president of the Acme Machinery Company, died at his home yesterday.

Annual Egg - Rolling At White House Is Planned

WASHINGTON, April 1.—A brisk market in Easter egg dyes was reported today as Washington mothers made preparations for the capital's annual kid carnival—the egg-rolling in the White House grounds on Easter Monday.

Contrary to published reports, there is no disposition on the part of Mrs. Hoover to cancel this colorful ceremonial which has become a fixture to generations of Washington children. In fact, the first lady is planning to make it bigger and better than ever this year, and with the aid of the Girl Scouts and the Marine Band, she has promised to present some new entertainment features for her young guests of the day.

Easter Monday will have added significance at the White House this year, also, because of the presence there of Peggy Anne and Peter, the young grandchildren of the President, whose father is convalescing at Asheville, N. C. Tucked away in many of the nooks and corners that only an expert young Easter-egg hunter can find will be many brightly colored eggs on Easter morning, and after Peggy Anne and Peter have uncovered all that the bunny rabbit left, the harvest will be preserved in baskets so that they, too, can go out in the south grounds and join the thousands of other tots from all sections and classes in celebration the following day.

Supplemental to the very serious business of rolling and "picking" the eggs until their hardened yolks and bright shells have been ground into the lawn in millions of pieces, (it costs about a thousand dollars each year to clear the mess) Mrs. Hoover's Girl Scouts are arranging Maypole and folk dances for the day. Squares are to be marked and roped off around each Maypole so the young dancers will not be overcome by the crowd.

Children up to ten years of age only are supposed to get past the seldom-opened portals, and only one adult per child can get in. There will be a lot of "fudging" on the question of age, no doubt, and enterprising urchins will reap a harvest of dimes and nickels by taking tourists in and then slipping out another gate, but the rules aren't enforced so "awfully strictly."

Everybody will bring basket lunches. Only rain can spoil a great day for the youngsters.

GOVERNOR WHITE TO INSPECT HOME HERE ON DAY OF BANQUET

Favors Appropriation; Program Details Completed

Governor George White will arrive here Friday afternoon, April 10, at 3 o'clock for a visit to and an inspection of the O. S. and S. O. Home and the annual Fish and Game banquet that night at 6 o'clock at Masonic Temple.

This information was telephoned Thursday to Harry E. Rice, president of the Fish and Game Association, by Representative R. D. Williamson. The governor will drive to Xenia in his own car and will be accompanied by Representative Williamson, his daughter, Miss Mary White, and possibly by a member of his staff.

At the request of the Governor, George Little will join him here and will accompany him to the home. The Governor said he wanted to "see every inch" of the institution. Representative Williamson said that the governor is insisting on the full appropriation asked for the home and has urged him to be on guard to see that no reduction is made.

The governor will spend from 3 o'clock to 5:45 at the home and will then leave for the banquet.

Interest in this function indicates that there will be a heavy late minute rush for tickets. W. B. McCallister, chairman of the committee of arrangements, and Arden Sachs, chairman of the committee on sale of tickets, both urge the immediate purchase of tickets to the end that Chief Jacob Kany may be apprised definitely of the number of diners to prepare for. At the banquet several years ago attended by Gov. Harry L. Davis, more than 800 tickets were sold.

Both Messrs. McCallister and Sachs stress the fact that the banquet is open to the general public and that $1 pays not only for membership in the association, but for the banquet as well. There will be many people from other cities present. Reservations have already been received from London, Osborn, Selma, Washington, C. H. and Mt. Sterling. An

MERCY MURDER?

Either "to get her out of the way" or "because there wasn't enough to eat," Anderson Huddleston, 43, above, and his brother, India, 49, West Virginia mountaineers, murdered their blind sister, 27, Charleston, W. Va., authorities allege. The scarred body of the girl was found in the humble two-room shack occupied by family.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH LEADER STRICKEN

CINCINNATI, O., April 2.—Hopes for the recovery of the Right Reverend Theodore Irving Reese, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Ohio, are slight, physicians attending the stricken church leader, admitted today.

Bishop Reese has been subject to attacks of apoplexy for the last two years. He suffered the latest attack two days ago.

Mrs. George P. C. Bishop of New York, a daughter, and Theodore Reese Jr., a son who is a student at Yale University, are at the bedside of the stricken bishop with their mother.

TREASURY BALANCE

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Treasury balance as of March 31: $542,428,597.48; expenditures, $4,682,736.34; customs receipts, $31,807,089.05.

PLAN ACTOR'S RITES

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., April 2.—Funeral services will be held at Waddington Episcopal Church on Friday for Maclyn Arbuckle, stage and screen actor. The body will later be taken to Sheldon, Vt. for interment.

PRISONER WHO REFUSED PAROLE RUSHES TO BEDSIDE OF MOTHER

CLEVELAND, O., April 2.—Ernest "Frenchy" Balanescu, Cleveland "love pill" slayer who yesterday refused a parole from Mansfield Reformatory because he wanted a full pardon, arrived at the bedside of his mother here today.

Mrs. Anna Balanescu attempted to commit suicide, police said, by taking poison at her home last night, after she learned that her son had refused his parole. Her condition was reported critical today.

"Frenchy" was sent to the reformatory four years ago when he was convicted of killing his eighteen-year-old fiancée, Dorothy Kirk.

AIRCRAFT CARRIER SPEEDS TO HELP MANAGUA

Dispatching two airplanes with physicians and medical supplies ahead, the U. S. naval aircraft carrier, Lexington, above, sped to Bluefields, Nicaragua, from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, to give succor to earthquake victims in Managua and other devastated regions.

STRICKEN MANAGUA AWAITS ARRIVAL OF RELIEF; 1,000 DEAD

Workers Exhausted At Task; Help Being Rushed To City

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 2.—Devastated Managua, reduced to shambles by Tuesday's continuing earthquakes and fires, staked all hope today on the quick arrival of relief forces rushing here by air, land and sea.

Exhausted local rescue detachments composed largely of American marines and medical units defied tremendous obstacles in their efforts to fight off epidemic and alleviate the sufferings of survivors, thousands of whom were evacuated in the last twenty-four hours to prevent hunger and thirst as well as further casualties.

Hundreds of bodies have been buried in common graves and others were cremated to frustrate the spread of disease, while the search for victims still under the smoking ruins continued unabated. Attempts to identify or count the crushed and mangled bodies were abandoned, with fatalities estimated at 1,000 and the number of injured running to several thousand.

Two airplanes from the Coco Solo air station at Cristobal brought 600 pounds of medical supplies, with encouraging reports that an army of relief workers with food and medical supplies would probably pour into the stricken city early tomorrow.

Re-establishment of railway communication between Managua and Granada opened another channel of entry into the ravaged area. The line to Corinto is also in operation with exception of a spot about six miles from here, where the rails were buried beneath a landslide. Motor trucks are being used to carry supplies around the break.

Under the leadership of United States forces, survivors have been encamped by the thousands on the hills overlooking the gaunt ruins of their homes protruding through a grey smoke pall, reddened by fires that break forth sporadically in the northern part of the city.

Marines under command of Lieut.-Colonel D. J. Sultan of the United States Engineers dynamited scores of buildings in a futile battle against the persistent conflagration. Late yesterday the $1,000,000 national palace with its precious government records had to be abandoned to the flames.

The recurring but less violent shocks occasionally sent whole rows of weakened walls tumbling.

SHORT MARRIED LIFE

NEW YORK, April 2.—Betty Compton, musical comedy actress, today refused to comment on dispatches from Mexico, stating she had been given a Mexican divorce from Edward Dureya Dowling. She married Dowling, film dialogue director, here Feb. 16.

PRISONER WHO REFUSED PAROLE RUSHES TO BEDSIDE OF MOTHER

He maintained his innocence of charges of giving her deadly "love pills," and when he became eligible for parole recently he announced that he would not accept his chance for freedom unless given a full pardon of the crime.

When he learned of his mother's grave condition, however, he accepted "temporary leave" from the reformatory to rush to his mother's bedside. He brought with him a note from prison officials, giving him permission to stay as long as his mother needs him. "Frenchy" still maintained today that he would not accept the parole and would return to the reformatory as soon as his mother recovers.

TWO SET BLAZE WHICH CAUSED DEATHS OF 320

Note Provides Clue; Prosecution For Murder Planned

COLUMBUS, O., April 2.

—A year's investigation of the Easter Monday Ohio Penitentiary fire April 21, 1930, in which 320 prisoners lost their lives, was expected to be climaxed here today with the return of grand jury indictments against two convicts, who, authorities say, have shouldered the responsibility for starting the holocaust.

According to Prosecutor Donald J. Hoskins, confessions have been obtained from Clinton "Cotton" Grate, sentenced from Dayton, O., for robbery, and Hugh Gibson, alias Gibbons, known to his cellmates as "The Jew," sentenced from Cleveland, also on charges of robbery. Both have served nine years.

The crime to which the pair of convicts have allegedly confessed, according to prosecutor Hoskins, warrants a charge of first-degree murder under the state arson code. The penalty is death.

Hatred of their set task in helping to build cell blocks for other convicts, a burning desire to hamper the prison construction program of Warden P. E. Thomas, and a feverish hope for freedom motivated the two men to start the fire that ended in one of the worst conflagrations of its kind in history, Hoskins revealed.

Solution of the prison fire mystery had been sought for a year, and, although authorities were virtually convinced the blaze was of incendiary origin, it was not until Saturday that officials were able to obtain a semblance of tangible evidence that would place the responsibility.

A tell-tale note, or "kite" as it is known in prison parlance, gave authorities the single clue that led to the unravelling of the fire mystery.

The "kite," which authorities said was sent by "Cotton" to "The Jew," was intercepted by prison officials. It's curt message was, "keep your mouth shut."

Spurred by the essence of this message, authorities began anew an investigation they had almost regarded as futile, and finally obtained confessions, Hoskins claimed.

Three attempts were made to fire the prison before the one that actually "went," it was revealed. The other bonfires that were started failed to burn.

The blaze that swept disaster upon the penitentiary was started with a match in the hands of Gibson, according to his alleged confession to Hoskins and several other county and city officials. Cotton prepared the makings for the bonfire.

Describing the scene, as the pair of convicts huddled hidden in the construction work of the cell-block framework, Hoskins quoted Gibson:

"Cotton fixed it up and he fixed it up pretty good and put the shavings all around it and he took a little 'potato pan'—what they use to serve potatoes with at the table—filled it with oil and put the shavings in it. And then took a little concrete block and set that in there. We used two of them, one on each side of the block. He

WOMAN DIES IN LEAP TO RIVER

Leaves Husband To Commit Suicide

COLUMBUS, O., Apr. 11 2.—E. B. Ringwalt of Chillicothe, today was still stunned by the actions of his wife, Mrs. Belle Ringwalt, 24, who last night quietly excused herself from his side at a wrestling match here and made her way to the town street bridge where she leaped to her death in the Scioto river.

The Ringwalt's had been visiting at the home of the suicide victim's mother, Mrs. Mary Collins.

Ringwalt told police that his wife excused herself, saying she was "going to the dressing room," when she failed to return, he became alarmed. After searching the streets nearby, the police were called. They notified the husband of the tragedy.

The woman's death leave was witnessed by Roy White, who was standing nearby waiting for a street car. He rushed to prevent her action, but too late. The body of the woman was recovered by police, who were called to the scene by White.

Ringwalt said his wife had been physically and mentally ill for some time.

All of the archives of the American legation in Managua, Nicaragua, were destroyed by fire which gutted the structure during earthquake tremors. Virtually all of the natives of the region, above, were destroyed by Nicaraguan capital are reported homeless.

POLICY GAME WORKER, SUMMONED AS WITNESS IN PROBE, IS MURDERED

CURTIS INDICATES DESIRE TO BECOME SENATE CANDIDATE

May Not Again Seek Vice Presidency Is Reported

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Vice President Charles Curtis has made no definite decision, but his present inclination is to retire from the vice presidency next year and stand for the senate again from his native Kansas. This was learned today on unimpeachable authority.

Probably no final decision in the matter will be reached for some months, but the vice president's closest friends in the capital believe that he will "no, choose to run" on the ticket with President Hoover in 1932. Curtis stopped from the senate into the vice presidency and it would be an unique thing to step back again.

Curtis expects to leave Washington in a few weeks for a long visit to Kansas to survey the field, and get a first-hand glimpse of the political conditions.

The senator whom Curtis would oppose next year if and when he decides to make the race, would be George McGill, the first Democrat Kansas has sent to the senate in many years, and some of Curtis' friends have urged upon him that McGill probably will be re-elected unless opposed by a candidate of the vice president's strength in the state. Curtis was twelve years in the house, and twenty-two years in the senate from Kansas.

While the relations of President Hoover and Vice President Curtis have been friendly enough since the 4th of March, 1929, it is no secret in Washington that they are of different schools.

Curtis' retirement would throw the field wide open for the Republican vice presidential nomination. There are candidates galore. Periodically Washington is regaled with gossip that Postmaster General Brown is the heir apparent, or that Se retray of War "Fat" Hurley is to get the call. More recently, rumors were afloat that Theodore Roosevelt, now governor of Porto Rico, was being considered. However, no one took that very seriously. It was attributed by the vice president's friends to an outgrowth of the social feud between Mrs. Alice Longworth, young Roosevelt's sister, and Mrs. "Dolly" Gann, the vice president's half sister and his official hostess.

Hoover has never indicated what his desires are in connection with a running mate for next year. But many of Mr. Hoover's friends are emphatic in stating that he would prefer a new one.

Member Of Harlem's "Big Four" In Racket, Is Killed

NEW YORK, April 2.—Paul Quarrels, 42, colored, said by police to have been one of the "big four" in Harlem's "million-dollar-a-week policy" game, was shot down and killed by a lone assassin today.

According to the authorities, Quarrels was to have been called within the next few days by Referee Samuel Seabury as a witness in the appellate division's inquiry into magistrates' courts. The investigation is now concerned with the "policy" game, described as a "gambling racket."

Mrs. Quarrels said she and her husband started out early this morning to give their dog a walk. They had gone only a short distance when she decided to return home for a moment. She said as she entered her apartment door she heard a shot and looking back saw her husband fall to the sidewalk.

He died almost instantly.

Mrs. Quarrels said she saw a man running up the street immediately after her husband was shot.

Quarrels was described by the authorities as one of the four big leaders in the "policy" game in Harlem.

Detectives said that Moses Adams, a partner in business of the murdered man, told them that Quarrels had been arrested in connection with policy gambling in 1929 and had paid $500 to beat the rap. A lawyer got most of the money, Adams said.

It was also reported by police that the murdered man recently had quarreled with other policy leaders in Harlem.

SPECIAL ELECTION COST ESTIMATED AT $1,100 WEDNESDAY

The contemplated special referendum election on ordinances passed recently by City Commission awarding the Xenia electric light and power franchise and contracts to The Dayton Power and Light Co., would cost the city in the neighborhood of $1,100, according to an estimate furnished Wednesday by Earl Short, clerk of the board of elections.

The expense of judges and clerks stationed at voting booths in the fourteen city precincts would amount to $700, on the basis of a cost of $50 for officials of each precinct, and the remainder of the expense would be incurred in printing ballots, poll books, tally sheets and other supplies, as well as necessary advertising.

City officials disclosed the cost of such an election would come out of the general fund for operating expenses this year and that an expenditure of $1,100 would necessitate the practicing of extraordinary economies to avoid a deficit in the fund.

The city would probably be required to pay the expense of three elections instead of two this year in the event a special election materializes. There may also be an August primary after which will come the regular November election.

Sponsors of the movement for a special election, who hope for ultimate acceptance of the rival proposition of Fairbanks, Morse and Co., began Wednesday the circulation of petitions in an effort to obtain a sufficient number of signatures to force a special election. An aggregate of 25 per cent of the electors who voted at the last general election in Xenia is required to bring about the proposed referendum election.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels, (gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute.

Mrs. W. A. Bickett, president and Mrs. Roy McClellan, secretary, assumed their offices in the Women's Missionary Society of the Second U. P. Church at a meeting of the church Wednesday afternoon. They succeeded Miss Margaret Moorehead and Mrs. Roy McClellan who retired after serving three years. Mrs. H. B. McElree and Miss Lella Quinn were re-elected vice president and treasurer, respectively.

Mrs. Mary Collins conducted a devotional period. "Mission Work in the Mountains of Kentucky and Tennessee" was the subject of the afternoon and Mrs. E. S. Foust reviewed a chapter from the study book, assisted by other members. Miss Mae Winter, who has taught in schools at Frenchburg, Ky., and Paint Creek, Tenn., told of her impressions of the mountain people.

Mrs. Richard McClellan sang a solo. Seven members, who have been present at all meetings during the year, and eight members, who have been absent from only one meeting, were presented flowers by the society. A social hour followed the program.

MISS WELLER IS HONORED IN DAYTON

In compliment to Miss Dorothy Weller, Springfield Valley, who has signed her position as stenographer with the N. C. R. Dayton, a group of young women informally entertained Monday evening. A party of four enjoyed dinner at the Blue Moon, Dayton, and later a theater party was formed.

Following the theater party a surprise "handkerchief shower" was given for Miss Weller at the home of Miss Helen Gray, Fritz Ave., Dayton. A salad course was served by Miss Gray later in the evening to the following guests: the Misses Mary Reis, Marie Pfander, Viola Franzer, Mildred Lightcap, Mary Carroll, Dorothy Long, Audrey Crikmore, Mary Andres, Marguerite Echevitz and Dorothy Weller. The closing feature of the evening was a slumber party at the home of Miss Gray.

Kruschen Salts is the ideal treatment for constipation, indigestion, headaches, nervousness and acidity. Take Kruschen every morning—it's the little daily dose that does it—if not, you'll be satisfied after the first bottle—money back—adv.

"APRIL FOOL" PARTY IS GIVEN WEDNESDAY

SENATE SCOLDS AND PRAISES CLIFTON

COLUMBUS, O., April 2.—Contradicting itself, the Ohio senate today had both scolded and upheld the existing state department of education.

Curtailling the director's power in one action, the senate passed by a top-sided vote the Gunsett bill to prohibit him from revoking charters for failure of schools to provide gymnasium facilities or to continue in session at least thirty-two weeks.

Showing him its confidence in him in the very next question on the calendar, the senate then rejected the Lowery resolution by which the leadership of the department would be taken from the director and placed in a proposed state board of education.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions that ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle. Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace.—II Thessalonians, ii, 15, 16.

CLAIM OF THE HEART'S KING

Phillips Brooks has given us the following very poignant Easter message: "Jesus came into Jerusalem as an intruder and a King. Whether it owned His claim or spurned it, whether it welcomed Him or cursed Him, through the mixed tumult of its welcome and its curses He went on His way, claiming it all for His own. And so He claims our hearts. An intruder and a King at once He seems to those hearts as He stands there on their threshold. There is something in everyone of them that says to Him, 'Come in, Come in!' There is something, too, in every one of them that rises up at His coming and says 'Begone, begone! We will not have this man rule over us.' But the struggle in any heart cannot keep on evenly balanced forever. Every heart has to decide. Jerusalem had to decide. Before the week was over she had decided. On Friday she crucified Christ. And so must every Jerusalem decide. So must your heart say finally to Jesus, 'Come' or 'Go.' He never will go until you obstinately bid him. He cannot come into the innermost temple until you welcome Him. The moment that you trust Christ's forgiveness and in profound gratitude give yourself to his service, casting every reluctance and doubt aside, that moment He begins the purification and salvation of your life which shall go on throughout eternity."

THE DOLE IS NOT NEEDED

The readiness and ability of the American people to take care of distress without a dole from Washington is amply proved by their going over the top of the $10,000,000 fund asked for the American Red Cross for the relief of drought sufferers. Senators Robinson and Caraway declared that the situation could not be handled by voluntary subscriptions. They demanded a handout from the national treasury, which would have fixed the principle of the dole on this country for all time. Over-subscription of the voluntary fund rebukes their lack of faith in the generosity of their countrymen.

The Red Cross's task was not an easy one. At its peak it consisted of providing food and other necessities for more than 2,000,000 people in twenty states. The drive for funds, furthermore, was hampered by two factors: The promise held out in congress that drought relief would be financed by the government; and the conjunction of distress in rural areas, with widespread unemployment in the cities requiring heavy local relief expenditures. All classes were in the same boat.

At that, what was required was given—and 621 carloads of food-stuffs was thrown in for good measure. The crisis has passed. Arkansas, worst stricken of all the states, again is on the upgrade and singing the praises of the American Red Cross. While those who said that a dole alone could save the situation are left to reflect on the words Grover Cleveland wrote into his veto message on the Texas Seed bill:

The friendliness and charity of our countrymen can always be relied upon to relieve their fellow-citizens in misfortune.

Other Editorial Thoughts

AUSTRIA-GERMAN CUSTOMS UNION

The foreign minister of Czechoslovakia has given America its cue for a sensible entrance upon consideration of the Austro-German customs union. "Few things are eaten as hot as they are cooked," he reasons. In other words, by the time the union becomes a fact Europe will have ceased to be frightened over it. America has no direct reason to be concerned.

There is irony in the fact that Europe, which has spent many months now talking about Aristide Briand's plan for a United States of Europe, should be so perturbed over a proposal actually to put the principle of the plan into effect. It shows clearly the inferior position pure economics holds in relation to national fears and jealousies. From an economic standpoint there is every reason to uphold a customs union between Austria and Germany but it is not the economic standpoint that Europe is taking. The German press, significantly, is satisfied with the union for a combination of economic with political reasons, while the French press is bitterly hostile for exactly the same reasons. It is another case to prove that politics and economics are indissolubly linked together.

America, from a spectator's viewpoint, is apt to conclude without argument that Germany and Austria should have, not only economic union, but political union as well. The prevailing undertone of opinion is that the customs union presages subsequent political ties between the two nations. Therefore, it is not at all alarming in this country, severely as it terrifies the French and some of their smaller southern European neighbors.

Perhaps the cue given gratuitously by the Czechoslovakian foreign minister might be taken up by advantage by Germany's continental neighbors. "Few things are eaten as hot as they are cooked." By the time Germany and Austria have gone through the formalities attendant upon an agreement of the kind they propose, the situation will appear different. — Portsmouth Times.

THE SCHOLARS GET THE JOBS

There is a quaint old American tradition that the college student who makes his mark in scholarship never amounts to much afterward; that the really admirable product of our colleges is the gladiator who is president of things, plays tackle on the football team, and never lets his studies interfere with his college work; that for every routine job awaiting the student "grind" there are 10 big corporations clamoring for the services at a fancy salary of the high hurdle champion who is president of his fraternity.

Enter President Walter S. Gifford of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company with disillusionment. Gifford reports that men who graduate in the first tenth of their class have four times as many chances of getting into the higher-salaried groups as those who graduate in the lowest third. Generally speaking, the men with the highest scholastic records get the most responsible jobs and the best salaries afterward. A number of large corporations have standing offers open with various colleges to give good jobs to the leading scholars in every class.

And don't think the college students haven't waked up to that fact, long ahead of the public in general. At Amherst recently 80 per cent of the senior class indicated that they prized Phi Beta Kappa (scholarship society) ahead of any other college distinction. Yale students have often indicated a similar preference.

The college students who get mixed up in booze parties and the like get the publicity. The ones who work at their studies get the jobs. — Amesville Signal.

MENU HINT

Baked Spaghetti with Eggs
Spinach Apple-Celery Salad
Pineapple-Butterscotch Parfait
Coffee

This simple little meatless meal will be a welcome change to the family appetite, I am sure. The dessert may be made the day before and enough made for two meals.

Today's Recipe:
Baked Spaghetti with Eggs—One-half pound spaghetti, three table-spoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one cup grated cheese, six eggs. Cook the spaghetti in three quarts of boiling salted water ten minutes. Drain and rinse in cold water. Line a large baking dish with the spaghetti. Melt the butter in a saucepan, add the flour and stir the milk in slowly. Cook until creamy. Season with salt and pepper and add the cheese. Pour this sauce over the spaghetti and break the eggs on top. Bake in moderate oven until eggs are cooked.

Pineapple-Butterscotch Parfait:—One-half cup white sugar, one-half cup brown sugar, two table-spoons butter, one-half cup water, two egg whites, one-half pint whipped cream, one and one-half cups drained crushed pineapple, one teaspoon vanilla, one and one-half teaspoons gelatin, one-half cup cold water, Maraschino cherries.

Boil first four ingredients to soft ball stage. Beat egg whites and pour syrup over them. Chill. Fold into whipped cream with pineapple and vanilla. Soak gelatin in cold water, melt over hot water and add to mixture. Beat thoroughly and put into ice box for two hours. Serve in parfait glasses topped with cherries.

Suggestions

Important Trifles
Prepared mustard is a paste made of a mixture of ground mustard or mustard flour, with salt, vinegar and specially blended spices and condiments. Prepared mustard will give an even flavor, where the dry mustard may vary in strength.

Every meal needs a bit of tart, the fruit cocktail, the breakfast fruit, or the piquant salad. One salad combination that is particularly nice is sections of grapefruit and calvados with a French dressing. The blending of the tartness with the oil of the calvados, plus the dressing, is most appetizing.

At formal dinners there are no second helpings, except that the waitress sees that the water goblets are kept filled. At a smaller dinner, however, it is quite right to offer, and quite right to accept second helpings. A guest should wait until asked if he desires more.

Bo-Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK—As a usual thing, at this season, the verbal poet in Manhattan quits his job in the delicatessen store and wanders abroad with a joyous cry of "Hail, gentle Spring!"

The hailing of this Spring poet, as a general thing, is confined to a small, thin volume, with passionate board covers decorated with cowslips and a picture of Pan, the woodland god.

MUTED MUSE

But times ain't not what they used to be—or words to that effect. Lots of good old customs and things have been kicked into the discard in the last couple of years. And not the least of these has been the Spring poet and his hollow-chested book of verses.

"We wouldn't condone for a moment issuing a volume of poems just now," said a successful publisher the other day. "Not even if the author was what Walt Whitman would call a 'boss poet.' Light, romantic fiction is about all that interests us."

A POET'S OUTLOOK

In substantiation of the above, herewith is quoted a popular and successful woman poet:

"Life is very murky. I am now doing some of my best work. But will the magazines buy it? They will not. Editors are digging into their safes and excavating stuff they have had on hand for the last three or four years, or longer. I expect to be starving in a garret soon. Have you a cigar? Life is frightfully mottled!"

GAWKING GOTHAM

Anything attracts a crowd in New York. A truck drives up to a curb and workmen get busy elevating a safe to an upper office window. The hurrying throngs immediately halt, gravely fringe each side of the "Danger" sign on the pavement. As the safe rises, up go the chins of the crowd, their lips part and there they remain, ailing their tonsils till the safe disappears through the office window.

The crowd then disintegrates only to reassemble several blocks further down the street in front of a window where a tired gentleman looking a whole lot like Edgar Allan Poe is exhibiting a trayful of Mexican jumping beans.

THE MEMORY LINGERS ON
Crowds hurrying across City Hall Park about half past eight one morning slackened their pace to rubber over their shoulders at a window washer dizzily aloft on the neighboring Woolworth Building manuevering and massaging the topmost panes.

All day long this interest, transmitted to succeeding strata of the crowd, was manifested. At six o'clock the window washer, long since having quit, thousands of men and women still gawked at Woolworth tower.

"What are you lookin' at?" I inquired of a bulbous-eyed and persistent starrer.

"Search me, Mac," he replied. Naturally, I disregarded the invitation.

THE DAY OF DAYS

COUNTRY USURPS GAIN IN CONGRESS SEATS, BIG CITIES COMPLAIN

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Charles P. Stewart, on tour, scanning the American vista, stops off in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 30.—Chicago is the first of the country's great cities to be stung by its state legislature, in connection with the recent census' showing of the representation it is entitled to at Springfield, the Illinois capital.

And my! how the windy metropolis did howl its indignation!

But it was nothing to the chorus of howls that will go up presently from all the big cities, when they discover how they are going to be flim-flammed out of their rights in the matter of representation in Washington, which is just what is going to happen to them to a dead certainty; what happened to Chicago the other day conclusively demonstrated it.

After each census, as probably everyone knows, the proper experts at the national capital figure out how many representatives each state is entitled to under the new count of its population, varying all the way from one, as in the cases of states like Arizona and New Mexico, up to 45, which will be New York's total, according to the 1930 tally of its inhabitants.

It is then up to the legislatures of the respective states to divide, each, its own states into the required number of congressional districts—except, of course, the legislatures of states with only one representative apiece.

In the same fashion, succeeding censuses' furnish the states with a basis for districting themselves as to representation in their legislatures.

The system worked very satisfactorily up to the point where the cities began to be big enough, if given their fair share of representation in proportion to population, to lord it over the agricultural element, which previously had lorded it over the cities.

Then the farmer legislators began to balk, and being everywhere in the majority (by reason of the fact that the farmers previously had been in the majority over the city folk), they balked to excellent effect.

Until last year congress had not voted a national reapportionment, among the states, for two decades, having completely skipped the 1920 census. It was in defiance of the federal constitution, but there was nothing anyone could do about it except rant and rave, which the urban lawmakers did, while the rural contingent laughed at them.

At the last session of congress, however, a national reapportionment act finally went through. By its provisions additional representation is given to states which recently have grown most rapidly, and taken away correspondingly from those which have lagged in increasing their populations.

This meant a loss of nearly 30 congressmen to the practically stationary rural states; a gain of the same number for states with big cities in them.

It did not necessarily mean that the big cities would get the benefit of the alterations. Michigan, for example, will get several more congressmen than heretofore, but Michigan's population, outside Detroit, has not grown so enormously. The growth is principally Detroit's. Yet the whole state gets the increased representation unless the farmer-controlled Michigan legislature awards it to Detroit exclusively—and will a farmer-controlled legislature do any such thing?

What a farmer-controlled legislature may reasonably be expected to do can be judged from what the Illinois legislature did do.

If the census is to be relied on, Chicago is entitled to seven more state senators and 21 more state representatives than it now sends to Springfield; the "down-state" folk to seven senators and 21 representatives less. And a bill was introduced providing for the readjustment. The legislative lower house turned it down 90 to 57—all the urbanites voting with the 57; all the ruralites with the 90.

As State Representative Sparks, of the rural 90, remarked, "Right or wrong, down-state never will surrender control of the legislature to Chicago."

If the farmers feel this way about their legislatures, how will about their legislatures, how will they feel about surrendering control of their congressional majority?

As to the congressional situation, the cities, taken altogether, actually stand to lose representation. They will not even hold onto all they have now.

New York City, for instance, is comparatively fortunate. At least it will not lose. St. Louis and Kansas City are quite likely to. New York state gains a couple of representatives. On a population basis New York City, because of its rapid growth, ought to get them, but it is doubtful if the Albany legislature will redistrict for them. If not, they will have to be elected at large—by the entire state—and perhaps they will be ruralites; or some of them, anyway.

On the other hand, Missouri loses four or five congressional seats. By good rights, however, they ought not to come out of St. Louis or Kansas City. They have kept up with population's growth and are entitled to as many congressmen as ever they had. Yet suppose the legislature refuses to redistrict Missouri! Why, in that event, inasmuch as the state actually has LOST representation, ALL its congressmen will have to be elected at large! St. Louis and Kansas City may not get ANY of them.

City folk gave a loud cry of rejoicing when congress passed the national reapportionment bill a few months ago.

They were aware that, in the last 15 or 20 years America has been transformed from a predominantly rural into a predominantly urban nation. With the reapportionment bill's passage, they reckoned they were going, belatedly, to get their rights—a majority in Washington. To repeat prohibition! To abolish blue laws generally! To make this country fit for city people to live in!

The heck they are!

DINNER STORIES

FIRST STEP

An employer who believed in supporting all efforts to introduce new spirit into industry had called his men together to place before them his plans for bettering working conditions.

"Now, whenever I enter the work-shop," he said, "I want to see every man cheerfully performing his task and therefore I invite you to place in this box any suggestions as to how that can be brought about."

A few days later he opened the box and took out a slip of paper on which was written: "Take the rubber heels off your shoes."

Trichiniasis Not So Rare

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Trichiniasis is a disease which used to be quite common when meat was cured on the farm or by the local butcher. It is caused by a tiny worm which infests some kinds of meat, mostly pork. The worms escape from the intestinal canal after the meat is consumed and lodge in the muscles.

When meat packing was concentrated and scientific rules for the selection and preservation of meat adopted, the disease greatly decreased in this country. In Germany, where raw pork is made into wursts, etc., on farms or domestic ally, it still appears sporadically. And lately there are indications that it is far more frequent in the United States than has been suspected. There was a report in 1929 of 43 cases in an epidemic in New York.

A well-known practitioner says, "Trichiniasis in this country is far from being a rare disease, yet it seems not to have established itself in the mind of the average practitioner as one of the diseases to be thought of and watched for."

An instance came to my attention a year or two ago of a man and his wife, who went to visit relatives during the Christmas holidays. When they returned home they both came down with a mysterious malady, the most prominent symptom being swelling of eyelids. Their doctor had several consultants in before the diagnosis was established—of trichiniasis.

These people were in good financial circumstances, and their food was of the best class. They were city dwellers, and when in the city ate meat which came through regular channels, subject to federal inspection and supervision. It would be unusual to suspect gross food infection as a cause of their symptoms. But the relatives they visited lived in a suburban community and must have obtained some pork or ham which was not thoroughly cooked. Curing or smoking hams alone does not necessarily kill the trichina.

Swelling of the face, and especially the eyelids, is a common symptom. Many of the patients are first seen by the oculist on account of the eye symptoms, and there is a report before me of three cases diagnosed by an oculist. One of these patients had been to two other physicians, one of whom made a diagnosis of protein sensitization and one of chronic nasal sinus infection, treated by the Alpine lamp.

The diagnosis is admittedly difficult unless the doctor gets into the habit of thinking of the possibility of the disease. Most victims recover, but death is not uncommon.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS
M. Indianapolis: "What are a few poisons which will kill without fail within a few minutes or a few hours? Which are in liquid form and which are not? Is there any cure for the person taking these poisons by mistake?"
Answer: If a poison will "kill without fail" there is no cure for the person taking it by mistake.

Home Girl Wants Pals

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Not all modern girls throw parental discipline to the winds and go their own sweet way, according to the following letter. Surely no Victorian maiden ever led a more "protected" or virtuous life than the writer.

"Dear Miss Lee: I'm a girl past 25 who stays home and does the housework. My mother seems satisfied for me to stay as she isn't very strong and needs some one to help her. "I do all the family washing and ironing. My mother gives me $1 and my sister 25 cents for help washing and ironing. I get little from my father. I average around $23 to $28 a year without my Christmas present, which is $5. I save 50 cents a week and when I need a winter coat I have the money to buy it. I make all my own dresses and even make my spring coats."

"What hurts me is that I can't have company at the house. Mother says, 'Wait until you are married and then you can have all the company you want.' I have very little pleasure. I spend most of my time listening to the radio and then I must turn it off at 10 o'clock. I go to a show once in two weeks, sometimes not that often. I go to church every Sunday. That's my life."

"You tell many of your readers not to leave home. I think I would be better off if I did, and went to work, regardless of how much they need me at home. Blue Belle."

If you do the washing every week, and your mother gives you $1 and your sister 25 cents, you average more than $28 a year, don't you, Belle? You are free to go after your work is done, are you?

not? That is, you could go out afternoons if you wished. You are not confined to the house all day? You have your own room and plenty to eat? Doesn't your father ever offer to buy you clothes? Of course you do get very little money. Your family pays you much less than they would have to pay an outsider. You could do the same work for someone else and have much more money, but you could not have people come to see you there either. And the reason you do not get more money at home is largely because your people do not have much, do they?

If they can afford to pay you more you could tell them that you will leave unless they can give you more money and the privilege of having your friends come to see you occasionally unless your mother's health forbids.

It's hard to tell you what to do. I'd like to have you try leaving home, if it could be worked out, and see how you like it and how much better off you are. One can't let one's mother down, can one? Try to see the good things in your life and be glad for them, and maybe your woes will seem less.

Anxious: Try to interest yourself in other boys. Anxious, and if the boy you like wants to come back he will.

Sue: Any dancing school or dancing teacher will teach you modern dancing in either class or private lessons, Sue.

Lonesome Beth: Nothing you can do, Beth, but to try not to show you care.

Cause of Wrinkled Face Explained

By GLADYS GLAD

Scientists tell us that the average housewife, in the performance of her household duties, pounds her poor toolies against hard wooden floors for a distance of from three to eight miles every day. And when one considers the amble about in daily life, it is not at all surprising that when hubby arrives home in the evening, he is likely to find wife with a mighty long face and a mighty short temper.

Too many women think that any old pair of shoes will do for wear about the house. Sloppy old slippers with crooked or worn down heels that have long since lost their shape and snugness are worn. And, as a result, the floor-pounding housewife develops a sore pair of dogs and a grumpy face. Shoes that have been deemed no longer fit for street wear should never be worn about the house. For such footwear may not only cause many foot troubles, but may also result in thick ankles, the "housewife's stoop," fat calves and wrinkled faces.

You should select your house shoes just as carefully as you do your dressy footwear. House shoes should fit so perfectly that they can be put on the feet immediately and worn without the least discomfort. They should give the arches sufficient support, should be roomy over the toes, and should fit snugly around the heels and over the instep. The heels should be of a sensible height, and should be kept straight, so that there will be no danger of ankle enlargement.

Such shoes need not be as unattractive in appearance as they may sound. Almost any up-to-date shoe store can provide you with a house shoe of the correct type that is also smart in appearance. But even if you can't procure a pretty-looking pair of house shoes, don't commit the beauty sin of wearing worn old shoes while you do your housework. And don't risk ruining your best shoes by wearing them while you are performing your daily tasks.

You will want to avoid the ill-effects that housework may have on your general appearance, you've got to be mighty particular about the shoes you select to take your daily three to eight-mile hike in!

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Cosmetics

Buddy: Cold water tends to close, and so open the pores. I think that a soft peach shade of powder, soft orange rouge, and light lipstick would blend well with your coloring. You should weigh about 118 pounds.

Posture
Mary Lou: If you hold your head and chest high, and your abdomen in, your back and shoulders will fall into their correct positions. Practice walking about with an object balanced on the head. It will help you to improve your posture. You should weigh about 128 pounds.

Nose
Ugly Duckling: The only way that I know of in which you can have the end of your nose made smaller is by plastic surgery. An expert only should be permitted to do the work.

Editor's Note: While it is impossible for Miss Glad to answer beauty questions by mail, she will be happy to send you her pamphlets on "The New Figure" and "Beauty Culture" if you will write her, care of this paper, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the articles on "Care of the Hands and Nails" and "Care of the Feet and Legs," 2 cents in coin for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope are required. Personal questions or beauty will be answered through Miss Glad's daily column.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

FRAMED
by Phil

You have passed on, Knute Rockne, but you have carved a permanent niche in the annals of sport. Your death cannot quench the memory of your magnetic personality, your genius, your true sportsmanship, your ready wit and the ideals which you have transplanted in the minds of the American public. You have bequeathed a heritage that stands for all that is good, all that is noble, all that is worth while in sports, that is applicable to every walk of life. Your passing has come as a profound shock to the countless persons who knew you intimately and numbered you among their friends; also to the millions of your admirers who did not know you personally but who worshiped you, not so much for your accomplishments, but for the things you stood for: your brains, your ability, your inspirational qualities, your vital qualities of leadership and the example you set to the younger generation of lovers of sport.

The passing of the famed Notre Dame football coach was deeply mourned by residents of Sandusky, O., who recall a statement made by Rockne a year ago to the Sandusky High football team that it was "on the beach at Cedar Point I founded my career as a coach."

During the several summers following 1913 the older inhabitants remember "Rock" as a resident manager at the Lake Erie resort. In his spare time he trained Notre Dame students in the art of football on the sandy beach.

For more than ten summers the "Wizard of Notre Dame" served as superintendent of the Rathskeller, a large eating establishment at Cedar Point, and during that period he coached the more promising candidates of his grid squad as a side-line every summer. Many of the more than 100 football players in disguise.

It may not also be a matter of common knowledge that the famous "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame, described by Rockne as the best backfield combination he ever coached, obtained their early training on the Cedar Point beach under the watchful eyes of the great coach.

Sandusky residents also list Edwards, Philbrook, Lathrop, "Deke" Jones, Fitzgerald and Chelan as others who became waiters at the resort restaurant to learn about football. To quote Rockne's own words: "these men made football history for Notre Dame."

It is also not generally known that Mrs. Rockne was a former Sandusky and that "Rock" took out a marriage license there July 14, 1914 with Miss Bonnie Skiles.

Xenians who were among those present at the Amphitheater Wednesday night saw a fine close-up of Rockne and heard him talk during the showing of a late Pathe news reel. He was pictured with members of his immediate family, the film being made only recently, shortly before he was scheduled to embark on the trip which ended in the fatal airplane crash and his tragic death Tuesday. Those who did not go Wednesday night will have another opportunity their last to see him and hear him once again Thursday night.

PHYSICIANS HEAR FRACTURE TALKS

A symposium on fractures featured the program of a Greene County Medical Society meeting in its new quarters in the basement of the Court House Thursday morning. Dr. W. T. Ungard discussed diagnosis; Dr. Reynburn R. McClellan, treatment and Dr. Paul D. Espey, complications. A general discussion on the subject followed. ## Life Of Knute Rockne

By J. R. Scott

KNUTE ROCKNE WAS BORN MARCH 4, 1888, IN VOSS, NORWAY.

IN 1893, KNUTE'S MOTHER BROUGHT HER CHILDREN TO CHICAGO, TO JOIN HIS FATHER.

KNUTE ROCKNE in 1922

PLAYING WITH THE NATIVE BORN CHILDREN HE SOON BECAME A REAL YOUNG AMERICAN.

ENTERING HIGH SCHOOL ROCKNE NATURALLY TOOK TO AMERICAN SPORTS

Written for Central Press
By W. R. WALTON

Knute Kenneth Rockne, genius of football, whose untimely death has stunned the sport world, took his first step on the path that led to football coaching supremacy when in 1910 he borrowed $45 and with two Chicago chums boarded a day coach for South Bend.

Rockne's two friends had persuaded him to enroll in Notre Dame University. Knute had rather planned on entering the University of Illinois, following graduation from Tukey High School, Chicago. But he wanted to be with his chums. So, instead, he became a student in the then virtually unknown Indiana school.

Strangely enough, Knute gave no thought to football on entering college. He had played on his school team, but had only a rudimentary knowledge of the game. But he had been very proficient in track and field athletics, having scored many points for his high school in that field of sport.

Rockne, the son of an ambitious Norwegian carriage maker, was born March 4, 1888, in Voss, Norway. The family came to America when Knute's father, Louis, entered a specially constructed carriage he had manufactured in Norway to exhibit in the Chicago World's Fair. Louis Rockne brought his wife, Martha Gjermoe Rockne, and their children with him. Knute was then only five years old.

The Rocknes settled in Chicago and their little Knute played with the native born children of the neighborhood and became in short order a very thorough-going young American. Thus when he entered high school he took naturally to American sports.

Even at that age young Rockne displayed the determined, resourceful character which led him to the peak of his profession. Entering athletics he became a star athlete—that was Rockne's way.

(Tomorrow: Rockne borrows $45 to enter Notre Dame.)

N. Y. STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, April 2.—Stock prices were irregular this morning in one of the duller of pre-holiday markets.

A few of the industrial and utility stocks fell off a point or more in the first hour, but trading on the big board was close to the vanishing point, with only 200,000 shares changing hands in the opening half-hour.

On the other side, new advances were recorded for McKeesport Tinplate, Bethlehem Steel and other market leaders. United States Steel sold at 139½, unchanged from yesterday's close, and McKeesport moved up 1½ to a new high at 103½.

NURSES TO ANSWER STATE-WIDE CALL

All registered nurses in Greene County are urged by Foody Post, American Legion, to communicate with Mrs. Pearl Wittenmeyer, county health nurse, before Saturday that they may be acquainted with the part they will play in connection with local participation of Legionnaires in the state-wide American Legion mobilization test scheduled for Monday, April 6.

The roundup of ex-service men is planned as a means of ascertaining the rapidly with which members of Legion posts throughout Ohio can be assembled at a given point in the event of a sudden disaster in order that they may render immediate emergency relief service.

FORMER XENIAN IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Word has been received here of the death of Will Herritt, former Xenian, at his home, 402 S. Champion Ave., Columbus, Wednesday evening. Death was sudden and resulted from a paralytic stroke earlier in the evening.

Mr. Herritt was born in Xenia and spent his early life here. He is survived by his widow and one son, his mother, Mrs. Nettie Herritt, died last September. Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday at 4:30 p. m. and the remains will be shipped to Michigan for burial.

FORMER BASEBALL STAR DRAWS FINE

CHICAGO, April 2.—Albert "Cozy" Dolan, former Giant coach and ball player, today faces fifteen days' imprisonment, following his conviction to a violation of the prohibition law.

He pleaded guilty yesterday to the charge brought about after his arrest last summer while manager of a club here.

PROSECUTOR ASKS AID IN DEFENDING BEAVER DITCH CASE

Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy had before him Thursday a request that former Prosecuting Attorney J. Carl Marshall be appointed as assistant defense counsel in an injunction suit recently filed against Greene County Commissioners involving the Beaver Creek ditch improvement, which was the subject of lengthy litigation more than thirteen years ago.

Pointing out that the issues involved are of paramount importance to the county, Prosecutor Marcus McCallister and County Commissioners united in asking that the former prosecutor be employed to help defend the action.

The suit in question was brought by Lewis W. Ankeney, Elsie M. Tanner and H. E. Schmidt against commissioners and more than fifty other persons who either own land along the course of the stream, or land which drains into it and were assessed for the original improvement.

A mandatory injunction compelling commissioners to comply with terms of an Ohio Supreme Court decision directing that the channel of Beaver creek, a stream in Beaver Creek Twp., be kept open and unobstructed, is sought, thus reopening the thirteen-year-old controversy.

DEMANDS REPORTS ON AIR ACCIDENTS

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Demands for publication of the results of investigations of fatal aviation accidents by the department of commerce arose today as a direct result of the tragedy which snuffed out the life of Coach Knute Rockne and seven others.

Rep. Laguardia (R) of New York, a major in the army aviation corps during the World War, declared the commerce department is derelict in its duty in failing to report on accidents.

Previous efforts in congress to force the commerce department to divulge the conclusions of inspectors have failed. They have been met by the statement of Secretary Lamont that the department cannot permit results of an official investigation to be used in damage suits, and the declaration that publicity would kill cooperation of air lines.

"There is no legal, moral, commercial, or scientific reason why the department should not make public the reports of its investigators," said Laguardia.

PAIR ARRESTED FOR POSING AS AGENTS

CHICAGO, April, 2.—Charged with posing as federal dry agents and shaking down roadhouse owners, 25, of Cincinnati, and Frank Harris, 38, of Macon, Ga., today were under arrest here.

Federal authorities also arrested a young woman, whose name was not given, and Martin Salzman. Another man, who recently served a prison sentence for posing as a dry agent, was sought as the leader of the band.

The arrest of Harris and La Fata followed their alleged attempt to obtain $2,000 hush money from a roadhouse proprietor here last night.

FLUE BURNS OUT

Firemen answered the thirty-seventh alarm for 1931 in a run to the home of Charles Pope, 815 W. Second St., Wednesday at 6:11 p. m. A small blaze resulted when a flue burned out but there was no damage. The property is owned by William Lavin.

PASSENGERS SAVED AS LINER GROUND

LONDON, April 2.—The British liner Malabar ran ashore today at Longbay, seven miles south of Port Jackson, on the Australian coast, Central News Dispatches from Sydney reported.

The ship's twenty-seven passengers and crew were landed in lifeboats shortly after. Reports stated that the Malabar was a total loss.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

Does a pimply face embarrass you? Get a package of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights, if you are like thousands of others.

Help cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

Thousands who take Olive Tablets are never cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition, pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound, known by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Good Friday Services To Be Broadcast On Friday

By MILDRED MASON

SPECIAL programs in observance of Good Friday are being announced by the National Broadcasting Co. and most of the programs on that day will have a devotional atmosphere.

The Ore services will be broadcast by WLW, Cincinnati, on Friday from St. Peter's Cathedral in Cincinnati, continuing from 12:15 p. m. until 3 o'clock. A capella choir from Mount Saint Mary Seminary will sing the music of Palestine and Vittoria. Father Edward Summe will give the seven sermons of the service and prayers will be offered by Father Lawrence Montanus.

A special Good Friday program from 2 until 3 p. m. will be broadcast over the NBC network but will not come through Cincinnati. The two speakers on this program will be Father James M. Gillis, of the Paulist Fathers and editor of the Catholic World, representing the Roman Catholic faith, and Suffragan Bishop Charles K. Gilbert of the diocese of New York, of the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine. Special music on the Easter theme will be presented by a chorus. The program will be concluded with a minute's pause of silence, in reverent observance of the hour traditionally designated as the time of Jesus' death on the cross. All NBC broadcasting stations will observe this sixty seconds of silence.

Guild Presents Play
"The Terrible Meek," a play in keeping with the observance of Good Friday, will be this week's presentation by the Radio World Guild over the NBC network through station WLW, Cincinnati, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. "The Terrible Meek" is allegorical in spirit and is replete with mystical overtones of Christian idealism. The sketch was written by Charles Rann Kennedy, who will play the leading role, assisted by Edith Wynne Mathison, who, in private life, is Mrs. Kennedy.

Present Famous Oratorio
Christ's march to the cross and His crucifixion as told in the oratorio, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," will be presented in a radio adaptation of the noted during the Armistice hour Friday evening. This program will be heard over the NBC network, coming through station WLW, Cincinnati, at 9:30 o'clock.

Experiment At WLW
Are sound films superior to disc recordings for broadcasting? Joseph

A. Chambers, technical supervisor of station WLW, Cincinnati, who is experimenting extensively with sound films, will give the WLW audience a chance to judge for itself Friday night at 12:30 o'clock. The broadcast will be of a twenty-seven minute film made especially for the experiment and it will be left for the radio audience to judge if this style of broadcasting is superior to disc recordings.

"S.S.S. gave me NEW STRENGTH—I NOW FEEL FINE"

Miss Pulliam

Miss Lottie Bell Pulliam, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My appetite was poor. I had lost weight—was nervous and could not sleep well at night. In my rundown condition even my joints ached. I took seven large size bottles of S.S.S. It greatly improved my condition. My appetite picked up. My weight was restored and I now feel fine—in fact, I feel like a new person. S.S.S. is a splendid blood tonic and I recommend it to my friends. My mother also took S.S.S. and it renewed her strength." You, too, will want to take S.S.S. Select the larger size as it holds double the quantity and represents a price saving. © S.S.S. Co.

BOWERSVILLE

Prof. and Mrs. A. J. Gibbs and little daughter, Gene of Defiance, spent the week calling on old friends and acquaintances. On Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Lindley Linton entertained some of his former pupils in their honor. Mr. Gibbs spent three years as a high school teacher here, the years 1903 to 06 inclusive. In 1907 he went as a missionary to the Western coast of Africa, where he spent more than twenty years in Christian services. They are planning their return to Africa as soon as the way opens for them. Those attending the occasion were the following: Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Oday of Jamestown, Mr. Oday spent thirteen years of his life in our school; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gibbs and daughter, Gene, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fisher and daughters, Mary Elizabeth and Harriett Fay, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Adams and children, Robert, Helen, Earl and Glenn Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Linton and children, Mary Wilma and Junior. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Burr and daughters Iola and Martha, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Conklin, Mr. Delmar Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Lindley Linton and sons Walter, Roy and Norman. We all enjoyed a bounteous covered dish supper, after which we listened to quite an interesting talk by Mr. Gibbs on conditions of the people and country of Africa. Also enjoyed a talk from Mr. O'Day.

Mrs. Ralph Lewis, who has been a patient at the McClellan Hospital for some time returned to her home Friday, her condition somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Braddis of Catawba, were called here this week by the serious condition of her mother, Mrs. D. B. Earley, Mrs. Earley is somewhat improved at this writing.

Thursday, March 26 being Mrs. Josephine Hargrave's birthday, Mrs. Bennie Hargrave invited the Aid Society of the Church of Christ to her home to spend the day. So unknown to Mrs. Josephine what she had done, she also invited her too. So, to her complete surprise there were 32 present to spend the day with her, a bounteous cov-

Knute Rockne, Bald Eagle Of Notre Dame, Flies On

NO. 1.—PICTURE STORY OF KNUTE ROCKNE—These photos taken within recent months depict events in the life of Knute Rockne, famed Notre Dame football coach who plunged to his death in an airplane. Extreme left: Rockne, left, and Tom Yarr, captain-elect of the 1931 Notre Dame football team, chatting together during spring practice last month. Next: Rockne resting in a Rochester, Minn., clinic last December, suffering from phlebitis. Next: Rockne and Mrs. Rockne and two of their sons, Jack, small inset, and Knute, Jr., in football uniform. Extreme Top, right: Map, arrow points to spot where fatal plane crash in Kansas cost Rockne's life. Lower extreme right: Rockne, center, and Tad Jones, former Yale coach, left, watching Notre Dame's team begin its magnificent undefeated 1930 season. NO. 2.—Parts of the passenger-air mail plane which fell in a meadow near Bazaar, Kan., killing Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, are shown above scattered around scene of the crash. This picture was rushed by plane and telephoto to this city. NO. 3.—Three photographs of Knute Rockne, noted football coach of Notre Dame, who was killed Tuesday in an airplane crash near Emporia, Kan. Photo at left shows Rockne in football togs, center is recent snapshot and at right is photo taken at Mayo Brothers' Hospital in Rochester, Minn., where he underwent a minor operation last December. NO. 4.—Here is one of the latest photos made of Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's famous coach who was the victim of a transcontinental plane crash, and his wife.

The picture was taken when the Rocknes visited Chicago recently. Below is the Rockne residence at 1417 East Wayne St., South Bend, Ind. NO. 5.—Hurling from the sky in a blazing airplane Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's famous grid coach, has come to the end of his grid career in dramatic fashion, typical of the man whose rise to football's heights was a thrilling drama of sport. NO. 6.—Hartley (Hunk) Anderson, former Notre Dame football star and now an assistant gridiron coach at Notre Dame, is regarded as a possible candidate to succeed the late Knute Rockne as Notre Dame's head football coach. NO. 7.—Just before leaving for the West on a football trip, Knute Rockne bids his aged mother, Mrs. Martha Rockne, of Chicago, goodbye. This photo was one of the very latest taken of the famed Notre Dame football coach who was killed when a transport plane fell in Kansas. NO. 8.—Among those who died in the plane explosion and crash near Bazaar, Kan., which killed Knute Rockne, was H. J. Christen of Chicago, who is pictured here with his wife and Bob and Charles Grayling, the children of friends. Christen was a designer of store equipment. NO. 9.—John H. Happer of 6313 Cornelia St., Chicago, was one of those who died in airplane crash at Bazaar, Kan. Mr. Happer was a personal friend of Knute Rockne, famous coach, who died with him. NO. 10.—This twisted, broken remnant is all that is left of the fuselage of the west-bound passenger-air mail plane which fell near Bazaar, Kan., killing Coach Knute Rockne of the Notre Dame football team, and others. This picture was rushed by plane and telephoto to this city.

FRIEND PUTS WALKER INTO MAYOR'S CHAIR

Life Story of Mayor James J. Walker of New York

Sketched by R. J. SCOTT

MAYOR WALKER gave New York City the best show it has ever had. And New York responded by supporting the show and allowing it what threatened to be a record run. Never were visiting celebrities more graciously received. Never were serious problems more lightly treated. New York had a "jester on the king's throne."

(This is the fourth story in a series of six on the life of Mayor James J. Walker of New York.)

By HOWARD P. JONES

NEW YORK—One day a famous friend reached down and grabbed Jimmy Walker, parliamentary super, by the nape of the neck and made him mayor.

Alfred E. Smith was telling Tammany what to do in 1925, and the orders went down the line to nominate his former roommate and close friend, "Handsome Jimmy," Democratic leader in the state legislature, for mayor.

New York needed freshness in the mayor's chair. It had had long years of John F. Hylan, who blundered his dull way about and was no more representative of New York than Jimmy Walker would be of Zion, Ill.

Lacked Qualifications

True, the new Tammany candidate had no qualifications for the job of running the largest municipal corporation in America. If New York had been the United States Steel corporation, or a large private corporation of any kind, James J. Walker would never have been hired as its general manager. He might possibly have been its counsel; he would have made a super-salesman; and as an entertainer of out-of-town buyers he would have had no peer. But even there his special talents would have been wasted.

LOVE, PREFERRED

THE ROMANCE OF A BUSINESS GIRL

By EDNA ROBE WEBSTER Author of "Dad's Girl", "Joretta", Etc.

Copyright 1931, Central Press Association

READ THIS FIRST:

Demure, poised, practical, industrious Mary Vaughn is private secretary to Ronald K. Foster, a prominent investment banker of Wall Street. Her busy life has afforded her little time for pleasure, for she has been the support of the family since her father's death four years before. There are her mother, Tim and Ted, the ten-year-old calamity twins, and Bonnie, who is only two years younger than Mary; but she had been the baby of the family for ten years, and the beauty, as well.

Bonnie never could be depended upon to help with the family finances, and Mary cannot remember the time when she did not have to take care of Bonnie and give her the best of everything. Bonnie adores work, and makes it plain to everyone that she is not going to slave all her days for a meager living.

Mary commutes every day from over in New Jersey, and her work has been her world until she met Dick Baldwin, the new wholesale man for another firm in "the street," and a former football star, began to take her out. He asks her to a dance at the University club, and five minutes afterward Foster asks her to work late that evening. She tells Dick she cannot go with him and resumes her work. When she leaves the office that night, weary and burdened with disappointment, Mary finds Dick awaiting her outside.

He insists upon driving her home to change for the dance. Very happy, Mary rejoices that the new chiffron evening dress, which she had selected for just such an occasion, is ready to wear. Reaching home, she finds that Bonnie is just leaving with a new boy friend, and has "borrowed" Mary's new dress, which she refuses to give up to Mary.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER 3

Mary groaned and sank into a little crushed heap on the floor. She could have wept. Then she remembered that Dick—Dick was waiting downstairs for her to dress in a jiffy. She snatched up her old kimono and dashed into the bathroom. No time for vain regrets. She would just have to make the best of it. While she proceeded with swift, mechanical motions, she tried to think of something she might do to improve what was left for her to wear.

No use! The only possibility was the beige lace, sunken pearls, gold slippers, larnished and worn at the toes. Bonnie's old blue wrap with the gray squirrel collar—not her color or style at all. Oh, how could Bonnie, her thoughts wondered over and over.

At last she was ready. Dick laid down the magazine he had been fingering and rose as she came into the room. His eyes appraised her. He seemed to be satisfied with her appearance, but his manner was not so enthusiastic as it might have been, had she worn the red dress, she thought.

"You hold the record for speed," he told her. "Not many women can do the quick change in that time. You look grand, Mary."

Her heart ached. But only for a moment. Soon they were again crossing on the ferry in the snug intimacy of the coupe, and Mary quite forgot that she wore the old lace frock.

She was more painfully aware of it when she entered the ladies' lounge at the club, however. Sequins and brilliants dazzled all about her, sheen of satins and lustre of exquisite velvets, blended with foaming, iridescent chiffons on scores of well-groomed women. Not many of them had worked in an office until eight o'clock, Mary surmised. She hastened over to join Dick in the reception room.

He was already the center of a group of chattering girls with a fringe of men in the offing. But he saw Mary at once, and came to her gallantly.

Mary never had been introduced to so many people at one time, in her whole life; and she was not oblivious of their critical scrutiny. She gained the impression that she passed their inspection rather well. At any rate, she did not lack dancing partners.

Fortunately, she danced well. Mary knew that. It was just an inherent part of her—a sense of rhythm and balance and grace. More than once she had been told that she walked like a queen—poised and graceful.

Dick was charming. He saw that she met everyone and was most deferential in his attentions to her. In fact, he let everyone know that Mary Vaughn was his "latest find" and he was proud of it. At which Mary glowed and looked her best. There is nothing like love to enhance a sweet face, be it ever so plain. Mary forgot that she wore last season's gown. In fact, she had the best time in all her life, and radiated her happiness.

"Like it?" Dick asked her on the way home.

"Oh, Dick, it was lovely. You have so many nice friends."

"Well, just so you don't like my friends better than me."

"Of course not," she assured him.

"Check!" he declared.

"Double-check!" she laughed.

Mary had been in bed for an hour when Bonnie slipped into the room. But she wasn't asleep. The evening had been too stimulating for sleep. She had rehearsed every moment of it again and again in her thoughts, and had even ventured farther. Perhaps, some day, she would marry Dick and they would go going always to places like the University club and to dinner at the Lawyers club—oh, many dignified and exclusive places that were closed to her now.

Mary stirred at Bonnie's entrance.

"Asleep?" Bonnie asked in a whisper.

"No. Turn on the light if you wish. I'm wide awake as an owl. Have a good time?"

"Oh, not so hot! And my head is splitting. I'll say the honorable Horace P. carries a mean flask. And I ruined your dress, Mary. Awful sorry. But some fellow tipped over my punch while Horace was hinking it up. I'll pay you for it when I get to work again."

"Oh, Bonnie! Mary's voice was almost a wail. "I don't know when I can afford another new dress. I stretched a point to get that one." She knew that Bonnie's promise to pay for was forgotten as soon as it was given.

"The spots might come out if you have it cleaned," Bonnie suggested carelessly.

"But a thing is never new after it has been cleaned," Mary declared vehemently, and very near to tears. She was almost angry with Bonnie, for the first time in her life. This affair seemed to be the straw that broke the camel's drove four nails in it and set the candle we got from the Catholic Chapel in there.

"Then he put some sticks around it and said: 'It's all set now. Let's light it.' I remember it was just as the whistle blew that I lit the candle."

Gibson explained, according to Hoskins that he offered to light the candle, because "it might be a better success this time."

Leaving the tiny bonfire, one two convicts hurried off to the prison mess hall for their evening meal. It was not until 5:21, after the prisoners had been locked in their cells that a muffled explosion broke out and the heinous conflagration was on.

The prisoners who perished in the blaze were locked in G and H cellblocks, adjoining I and K, where the fire was started. Grate and Gibson managed to escape death in the conflagration, but hundreds of their fellow-prisoners fell victims to the smoke and flames.

Fellow prisoners supplied Grate and Gibson with the candles that were used in starting the fire. Among them was one James Raymond, who hanged himself while in solitary confinement during the rioting following the fire.

None of these prisoners, however, knew of the fire plans, the two convicts told Prosecutor Hoskins.

"They didn't even know what we wanted with the candles. We told them we needed them to heat solder," Hoskins quoted the pair as saying. The source of the oil which was used in starting the fire was unexplained.

Gibson appealed to Hoskins that the fire was started with no thought of seeing so many people perish.

"If we had realized that so many would lose their lives, I don't think we would know I wouldn't have and I know Cotton wouldn't have gone through with it."

The indictment, which Hoskins was preparing in anticipation of the grand jury's probable action in voting them, can charge the death of only one of the many that perished. Which one will be chosen had not been decided this morning.

rivals were Adam Walsh, captain of the famous "four horsemen," and his brother "Chilly," now coach at St. Louis University.

Thousands stood with bowed heads last night to receive their idol, at the New York Central station. It was a different gathering than the one that had shouted his name and those of his players on their return last December from the conquest of Southern California.

Billy and Knute Rockne, Jr., were brought to the campus where they spent the night. When their mother arrives they will return to their home.

STRONG CITY, Kan., April 2.—Knute Rockne, noted football coach, and the seven other persons who were victims of the air tragedy near here, "met their death as a result of an airplane fall, cause undetermined."

That today was the verdict of the coroner's jury here following a lengthy inquest yesterday in which several eye-witnesses to the crash and officials of the Transcontinental Air Lines, testified.

One witness stated that falling motors of the trimotored Fokker plane appeared to be the cause of the crash.

The plane had been in use about a year and was last inspected at Kansas City before it was started on the fatal journey, Jack Fry, of Los Angeles, official of Transcontinental Lines told the jury.

Asked if he could advance any cause, he stated he had been in the flight business ten years, but this was the first instance of such an accident.

In the crash, which happened Tuesday, a wing snapped off the huge liner before the plane dropped to earth.

into the debris-choked streets, further endangering rescue squads and spreading fresh panic among the survivors. Many thousands of grieving natives packed up the few remains they dragged from under the wreckage of former dwellings and joined the long procession moving out of Managua to outlying districts.

In the city, martial law prevailed and with it came a sort of death-like hush. Only one case of looting has been reported, with native activities confined to those searching the ruins for missing family members or bits of property.
